STEP UP YOUR GAME!

Computer Setup Specialists Wanted

Can you push buttons on a keyboard?
Are you fast, careful, and reliable?

Then we have a good job with excellent growth potential for you!

Working at a restaurant job or fast food place might help if you're looking to launch a sweet career as a restaurant manager, but if you have other goals in mind, come work for FireFly as an entry-level Computer Setup Specialist! No experience is necessary, and to be honest it's pretty simple to get started. All you need is a positive attitude, good attention to detail, and a desire to excel in a fast-paced order fulfillment environment. It's a job that will look great on a resume, and once you're here you can also advance into other roles like computer technician, warehouse associate, salesperson, customer success specialist, or wherever you fit in.

We work hard at FireFly, but we also have a lot of fun doing it! You get to spend your day with other computer people like you, who geek out on stuff like Gamer's Nexus, Linus Tech Tips, and Twitch streams, and who talk about stuff like MOBAs, first-person shooters, and anime.

Best of all, you can feel good about the work you do here. The devices you setup and configure are used by students all across the country to access classroom assignments, enhance learning, and collaborate with peers. You'll also gain skills that can help you earn certifications to advance your career, or just help you build that sweet gaming rig you've always dreamed of.

BENEFITS INCLUDE

- Making your friends jealous because your job is cooler than theirs
- Having something great for future resumes, college applications, etc.
- No dealing with angry customers
- Fun, interesting work environment
- Predictable, guaranteed paychecks
- Predictable schedule
- Holidays off
- Christmas bonus
